

Adjustable Canister Spray Gun

The Adjustable Canister Spray Gun is a premium adhesive output device for use with the Red Devil Spray Tack™ canister and 12-foot hose. Spray width and output may be adjusted from 2 inches to 12 inches using the rear trigger guard, providing a more optimal application of adhesive. Its full metal build, balanced design, and ergonomic handle make it durable and easy to use. The Adjustable Canister Spray Gun can also be conveniently stored using the molded hook at the top of the gun.

FEATURES:

- Controlled coverage and optimal spray
- Easily attachable to the 12-foot canister hose
- Ergonomic handle for comfortable grip
- Adjustable output and spray width
- Secure fitting hose attachment prevents leaks
- Trigger guard stops accidental discharge of adhesive

12' Adhesive Canister Hose

This 12-foot nylon/synthetic rubber canister hose is versatile and easy to handle. To be used with Red Devil's Spray Tack™ Canister and Adhesive Spray Gun, it's perfect for small or large application areas like drywall, flooring, and even hard-to-reach areas. Its flexible size makes it easy to use with both hand-held and larger tanks, preventing hose tangles and ensuring smooth application.

FEATURES:

- Easily attachable to adhesive canister & spray gun
- Securely fastens to prevent leakage
- Flexibility reduces tangling and restrictions
- Increased mobility with 12-foot hose length
- Lightweight & durable for improved control & less fatigue
